Commit to the art of making a good painting . . .
a well composed, interesting painting conveying an inspired moment.

Pamela duLong Williams graduated from Vesper George School of Art, Boston, and attended the Art Students League, NYC. She has taught at Silvermine School of Art, Heartwood College of Art, UNH, and workshops both nationally and abroad since 1976.

Her works have exhibited in competitions and collections such as the National Academy of Design, NY; Allied Artists, NY; the Copley Society, Boston; the permanent collection of the State House Collection, Boston; Artist's Magazine; American Artist Magazine and Domino Magazine.

INTENT . . .

As a teacher, my goal is to share with the student all of my knowledge and a lifetime of experience in the attainment of personal expression. The hope is to inspire, direct and cultivate the “The Art Spirit” within.

All levels are welcome. All minds and hearts are required. The student just needs to bring desire.

Academically, emphasis in all classes is on composition, drawing and the basics of color and light.

COMMISSIONS . . .

Contact Pamela duLong Williams for information concerning commissioning paintings: portraits, family, houses, still lifes.
